The "Academy of Inspiring the Intelligence of the Future Generation" summer camp organized by Kuaishou Charity was held between 14 July and 18 July, during which children from Xiangxi Ci'ai Garden of Hunan and Huining County of Gansu got the chance to visit Beijing to take part in the research and study activities of this science and technology summer camp, which allowed them to broaden their visions, gain more knowledge, strengthen their self-confidence and enhance their independence. This summer camp laid a favorable foundation for their future development and demonstrated the social value of Kuaishou on assisting and supporting teenagers and children.
